Subject: Next Steps and Reminders

We are pleased to announce that we will be relaxing some of our Covid-19 precautions for Residential Living starting Monday, August 10, 2020. Certain changes will be in effect immediately and others will be phased in over the next few weeks. More information about these changes can be found below.

Please keep in mind that Quarryville's Covid-19 precautions are subject to change with little advance notice. They are based on the recommendations and requirements of a variety of authorities and agencies and are made in response to constantly changing circumstances. It is an unfortunate reality that something that is allowed today, may not be allowed tomorrow, or that a change we wanted to make next week cannot be implemented.
